1. About the UK Young Academy

Launched in June 2022, the UK Young Academy is a new interdisciplinary organisation of UK-based early-career researchers, innovators and professionals from across society who share a passion to improve our world.

As part of a global initiative of Young Academies, it gives a voice to individuals with ideas, initiative and drive who wish to work together to contribute to national and global decision-making.

2. Applying for membership

The UK Young Academy is welcoming applications for its next cohort of members. We are looking for dedicated, driven and dynamic individuals who are committed to collaborating with others from a spectrum of different sectors.

Our members will be selected from across the UK, from a variety of diverse backgrounds and a range of experiences. They will be at the forefront of their field, having demonstrated excellence, leadership skills and creative and innovative thinking. Suggestions for what this may look like in practice can be found in the eligibility criteria section below.

Members will be encouraged to help define the UK Young Academy's activities and contribute to its projects. They will help to build the UK Young Academy's reputation and give it a credible voice on issues that matter. This will include engaging with fellow members and other institutions to understand the key issues facing society and pressing for best practice across the sectors they represent. Members have the opportunity to address challenges faced by their peers, inform national and international policy, and enable positive societal change.

Membership is typically for five years, and there is no membership fee. Travel and accommodation costs will be supported to facilitate participation in UK Young Academy activities for all members and additional support is also available to help cover the costs of childcare.

3. Eligibility criteria

You'll be in the early stages of a professional career

We are looking for forward thinking, innovative and proactive individuals in all key sectors of society. While not an exhaustive list, these might include entrepreneurs, researchers in academia or industry, engineers, professionals in the arts and creative industries, lawyers, teachers, clinicians, along with individuals working in business, charity and new and emerging fields.

You'll have approximately 3-12 years' experience in your field

Those eligible to apply will be in the early stages of their careers. As a guide, members may typically have at least three to twelve years of experience working in their profession or post highest qualification or degree. We expect to welcome members from their mid-20s to their mid-40s, however this is just a guideline.

If you are early in your career and meet the selection criteria, you will be considered, regardless of age. We also appreciate that career paths can take many twists and turns. When reviewing applicants' eligibility, documented career breaks (including parental leave, adoptive leave or extended sick leave) will be taken into consideration, and the 12-year upper limit should be considered to extend as appropriate to account for any breaks in career.

You must reside in the UK

Members will be selected from anywhere in the UK and from all backgrounds. Applicants will typically be UK citizens or live in the UK when you apply for membership, unless you have exceptional circumstances such as if you are a refugee or asylum seeker and are currently residing in the UK.

Applicants who are UK citizens but currently based overseas are eligible to apply. However, you should consider whether you can properly commit to the Young Academy and its activities, and aim to demonstrate this throughout your application.

You'll have a track record of excellence

Members will be selected for their career excellence. Perhaps you've made a significant contribution to your field, won awards, or led a team to deliver an important new project. Your commitment and possible contribution to the UK Young Academy will also be important.

We would encourage you to apply, even if you think you might not fit all the eligibility criteria. If you see yourself as early-career and are passionate about our aims, we want to hear from you.

4. The selection process

Applications for membership to UK Young Academy will be reviewed by a selection committee, comprising individuals including members from the Young Academy, Fellows and Members from the seven partner academies and early-career and professional sector representatives covering different areas of knowledge, expertise and geography. Applications will be scored using the selection criteria outlined below to select the next cohort.
